BUT I CAN'T BE LATE ON MY FIRST DAY.

I'LL DO IT
AFTER WORK.

WORKING LATE EVERY

STARTED..

IS THIS WHAT HAVING A JOB MEANS..?
